Methodology	Talanoa Dialogues are a form of participatory diplomacy structured around forward-thinking dialogues. Participants to the dialogue gather in an informal circle, together with a moderator. The dialogue starts with the presentation of participants and the sharing of their stories. The interventions are structured around three general topics: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Where are we? • Where do we want to go? • How do we get there? The three points are discussed either together or in three distinctive rounds of discussion. At the end, participants draw together a general conclusion based on the different experiences outlined. The moderator drafts a summary document to share with the participants regarding the event. The format can be also be carried online
