

Name	Dyads
Brief Description	Dyads (Greek: duality) are a special form of in-depth interview: Two participants sit down and question each other using a questionnaire given by the moderator. This method enables a high level of relationship and interaction. The respondents are challenged to change their perspectives during the interview and to critically look at their own points of view.
Methodology	Depending on the specific topic, a questionnaire is drawn up, which is discussed within the dyads. General process structure: Two people interview each other and use the same catalogue of questions in two to four successive rounds. The aim of this interview technique is to listen to new perspectives and to incorporate them into the personal consideration of the topic. This can provide new insights and a deeper understanding of individual values, beliefs and needs. The conclusion of a dyad can be a short plenary session with other participants of the event.
Estimated planning time needed:	< 10h
Estimated budget needed:	Low
Objective	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Exploration of topics • Debate • Brainstorming of ideas and solutions • Data collection • Prioritisation of ideas • Conflict resolution and consensus building Even if sharing the same goals of Focus Groups, Dyads provide for a more intimate setting, in which the participants can feel better in sharing their experience. Dyads respond to Biovoices Goal C, exploration.
Time estimated:	1-4h
Target Audience:	Suit all types of stakeholders
Number of audience:	Low to Medium - 0-40
Group composition:	Heterogeneous groups are envisaged
Level of Knowledge required and possible challenges	Medium - the organizer has the crucial role to prepare the right set of questions to unlock the discussion. Participants in the Dyads need to have a sufficient level of knowledge to sustain a face-to-face conversation
Facilitator profile	Experienced on the topic
Example
Relevant sources	https://www.partizipation.at/dyade.html

	https://younglivesresearch.ca/wp-content/uploads/2018/10/RS1-Dyadic-Interviews-in-qualitative-research-Nov-2014.pdf
--	---